

Terraria: Summon More Minions To Fight Your Battles

Some say the best offense is a good defense. In Terraria's case, the Stardust armor provides a great offensive boost, the ability to summon many minions, with increased damage. In order to obtain the full stardust armor, players must collect 45 stardust fragments during the Lunar Event and obtain at least 144 Luminite Ore after defeating the Moon Lord. The ore allows players to craft Luminite Bars for crafting armor and weapons. Once materials are gathered, players may craft the helmet, plate, and leggings at the Ancient Manipulator, a crafting table retrieved by defeating the Lunatic Cultist.

In order to trigger the Lunar Event players must have defeated the Golem, a hard mode boss. After its defeat, players must visit the Skeletron Dungeon to find the cultists, triggering the Lunar Event. During this time, players must seek and destroy the four Celestial Pillars: Vortex, Stardust, Nebula, and Solar. After the pillars (and the horde of enemies that accompany them) are destroyed, players have a short amount of time before the Moon Lord, Terraria's top boss, appears.

